Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 9-11 is allowed. Prior art fails to show (fig.13) A piezoelectric element driving circuit for driving a plurality of piezoelectric elements disposed in a plurality of head units, comprising: a plurality of power amplifiers for driving the plurality of piezoelectric elements disposed in the plurality of head units; a plurality of first switch devices, disposed corresponding to said plurality of power amplifiers, having a plurality of connection/disconnection switches whose input side is short-circuited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant Prior Art.

Applicants Prior Art discloses in fig.3 A piezoelectric element driving circuit for driving a plurality of piezoelectric elements disposed in a plurality of inkjet head units (4), comprising: a power amplifiers (2) for driving the plurality of head units (4,y, m, c, k); a flexible flat cables (3) disposed between said power amplifiers and the plurality of head units for connecting the plurality of inkjet head units and said power amplifiers; and a drive waveform signal generating circuit (1) for supplying a drive waveform signal to said power amplifiers and the plurality of inkjet head units, wherein each of the plurality of head units has: a switch device for supplying a piezoelectric element current to the plurality of piezoelectric elements, wherein said plurality of power amplifiers are disposed corresponding to the plurality of head units, said plurality of power amplifiers supplying a drive waveform signal that is input from said drive waveform signal generating circuit to said plurality of power amplifiers through said plurality of flexible flat cables so as to drive the plurality of inkjet head units. Wherein; the head units are yellow, magenta cyan and black. Applicant prior art does not show a plurality of amplifiers, and flexible flat cables connected a plurality of head units.

Puskas (5834871) teaches (fig.9a and 10) the concept of using multiple generator circuits (232a, b, and c) to drive each associated transducer (238a,b, c).

As applicant prior art shows the structure required to meet the applicant's functional requirement the method is inherent.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a plurality of amplifiers and flexible flat cables, since it has been held that mere duplication of essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. ST. Regis Paper CO. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.
